

Announcement – Call for Initiatives!

Send your Application!

The 'World Goetheanum Association' will award at least €50,000 to anthroposophically inspired initiatives through a live-crowdfunding process at this year's forum from 27th-28th September 2019. Entrepreneurs and institutional leaders will be present at the forum, so that the amount awarded can be even higher, especially if inspiring projects appear. No guarantee can be given that an initiative presented at the forum will also receive funding. All funding decisions are only made on-site, within the framework of a collaborative allocation process of all participants.

Who can apply?

Applications are open to non-governmental initiatives from all walks of life that have a direct or extended connection with anthroposophy. From ecological to social, humanitarian, scientific, educational, political or artistic concerns - whether individuals, groups, associations or social enterprises - we look forward to receiving your application!

What to prepare if you are invited?

A 7-minute short presentation on the questions:

- What is the purpose and goal of your initiative?
- Who carries the initiative?
- How do you work together in the initiative?
- What is the greater benefit of your initiative?
- What do you need money for and how much?

Furthermore you will get a pinboard in the hall, which you can design creatively with pictures, posters, paintings etc. in order to also be present during the breaks.

What support can we offer?

All selected initiatives will receive a free conference ticket including catering. If necessary, we can provide simple sleeping facilities. If you have any questions about the preparation and the format, we will be happy to advise you.

The WGA can also support a few initiatives with travel expenses. However, the small travel fund is mainly reserved for initiatives from disadvantaged and distant countries.
